

Dooradoyle Library

Children's Book Festival 2008

9th Oct - 11th Nov

Thursday 9th October

11.30am & 1.30pm

Let me tell you a story!

Myths & Stories brought to life in wonderful fashion by performance storyteller Clare

(suitable for younger Class Groups, please reserve your class in advance)

Saturday 11th October

12.30pm to 4pm

Festival Party

This day long celebration of Children's Book Festival will be packed with entertainment.

Starting at 12.30 with Prize giving followed by all day long Chocolate Fountain the day will continue in party mode with hilarious comedian Cormac, Music & DJ and much more. All welcome— Not to be missed!!!

Monday 13th October

11.30am & 1.40pm

Karen McCombie

This very popular writer of bestsellers such as Ally's World & Stella etc. will join us to celebrate Book Festival. Karen who used to write for teen magazines Just Seventeen & Sugar has never lost her 'teen' view. (suitable for older class groups)

Wednesday 15th October

11.30am & 1.30pm

History Live

Hands on History - real tools, real armour & real costumes - telling the real histories of times past with the ever engaging Michael

(Suitable from 4th class upwards, please reserve your class in advance)

Tuesday 21st October

10am 11am & 12pm

Halloween Tales with Audrey

Participative storytelling for children of preschool age incorporating music & movement with Audrey

(suitable for pre-school groups)

Wednesday 22nd October

10.00am

Stories from Noah's Ark

Dandelion Puppets bring a lively and funny show to life with a mix of many puppets. (suitable for younger classes 5-9 years)

Tuesday 28th October

11.00am

Colourful Stones

A craft class working with acrylic paint & stones with Carol. Suitable for 8-10 years (please book at Library desk, - limited places)

Wednesday 29th October

11.00am

Mask-making with Jane

Do you fancy making your own mask, just in time for Halloween, join Jane for a workshop & walk away with your personal mask!

Suitable for younger folk, 6-9 years of age (please book at Library desk, places limited)

Tuesday 11th November

James Soper's Science Circus

10am 11.30am & 1.30pm

James a professional circus performer & qualified teacher will amaze with the Science of the Circus. We are delighted to host this amazing show marking Science Week

(suitable for middle to senior class groups)

Tel. 496860

